

The good fellowship award was given to the beauty pageant contestant who contributed most to the camaraderie of all the girls.

Juanita's vivacious temperament allowed her to hobnob with people in all walks of life.

The spendthrift cannot expect a cornucopia of merchandise to his fanciful tastes.

Some people have such exaggerated opinions of themselves that they border on narcissism.

The cowboy star twirled his lariat in television appearances.

The lone sailor quailed before the mighty waves roaring toward his flimsy raft.

The killer was circumspect about leaving any clues that would tie him to the victim.

The subliminal effect of the rapidly flashed pictures of popcorn was that the audience headed for the refreshment counter.

Math is my nemesis, constantly reminding me that I'm not as bright as I think I am.

Marlene's tawdry taste in clothing was an embarrassment to her boyfriend.

The avaricious broker was prosecuted by the attorney general.

Margo's quixotic behavior was upsetting to her family because she had always been so level-headed.

After the emotional catharsis, my psychiatrist felt that I was cured.

Marjorie's flippant attitude toward her grandmother's illness led to a bitter family argument.

Ira's long arms and body posture gave him a simian appearance.

A biennial plant lasts two years, producing flowers and seeds the second year.

When I was an aficionado of baseball, I knew every player's batting average.

The fashion show featured an iridescent display of color in the most modern styles.

Hal's application to Yale was in limbo because it was incomplete.

The elected sophomore served as liaison between the council and his class.