

Mrs. Andrews: Why the long face?

Joan: I went fishing with Paul the other day.

A: That sounds like fun. What's wrong with it?

J: Well, I made a lot of mistakes.

A: Such as?

J: I spoke loudly in the boat.

A: Oh, the fish must have been scared, then.

J: Yes, he looked annoyed.

A: Go on.

J: I've never put bait on the hook.

A: So?

J: He said I was putting the wrong one on.

A: Oh, he gave you good advice.

J: Then he said I was pulling in my line too quickly.

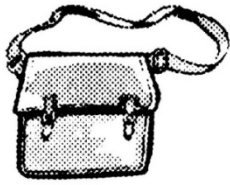

A: He was a good teacher, then.

J: Well, the worst part was that I caught a lot of fish.

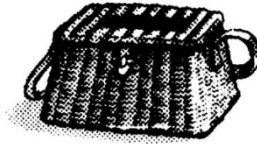

A lot more than my husband did.
