

(Mr. Brown)

I hate summer.

I hate this town because there are no trees in the street.

Look at me. I'm sweating like a pig

I hate walking, because it makes me sweat more.

(Boy)

I play games. I like playing computer games.

I want new games because I've finished all mine..

I came to a toy shop, but all the games are too expensive.

I have to look around the area.

(Mr. Brown)

Today was a very bad day.

It was very hot, unusually hot!

I wanted to get home as soon as possible.

While I was walking, I felt something funny at my heels.

I turned back, then found a boy kicking me.

(Boy)

When I got out of a shop, I found a very tall and fat man.

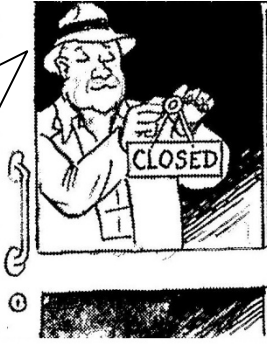

He was huge, looked like a sumo wrestler.

So, I came up to his back, and walked behind him.

Do you know why? The answer was simple.

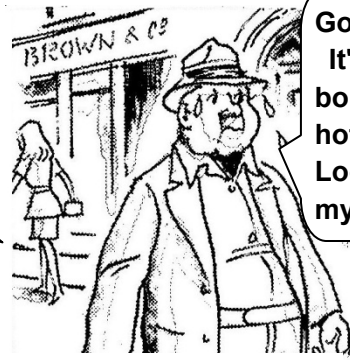

Because he could give me shade.

It's 7:30.
I should close
the shop.
No one seems to be coming anyway.

Mr. Brown closed his shop.

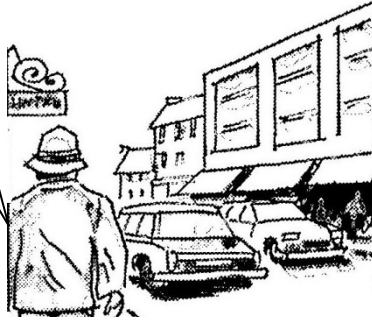

Wow,
that man's sweating
buckets

Gosh!
It's
boiling
hot.
Look at my face.

He went out into the street.

I hate this town.
There're no trees in the street.

There were no trees in the street.

He began walking to his bus.

Oh, the bus
has already arrived.
I'd better
hurry.

This shop
is very expensive.
I should find a cheap one.

A small boy came out of another shop.

Good.
This man
is so huge
that I can get shade
behind him.

He followed Mr. Brown.

Ouch!
What' that hitting my heels?

Whoops!
I've kicked him on the heels.

He kicked Mr. Brown.

Hey, you bad boy!
Stop following me
like that. You're hurting my heels.

Oh, I'm sorry
mister.
But you walk
so slowly.

Mr. Brown stopped and spoke to him angrily