

5 basic sentence patterns

S: Subject
 V: Verb
 O: Object
 C: Complement

I walk to school. My father drives to his office.
Yesterday, it rained so I stayed at home.
My mother shouted, "Go to school!"
My sister is a student. She is very clever. She is always studying.
Yesterday, she said to me, "Studying is fun and good for you."
I was impressed. I will be a keen student, I said to myself.
I walk my dog everyday.
But yesterday, my father told me to study instead.
I asked my sister to walk my dog for me.
She said "OK", and took him out of our house.
I send boys chocolates on Valentine's Day.
But my sister sends cookies instead.
This year, I wanted to get more attention: I sent a lot of flowers to them.
We call him Botchan. But he found it childish.
We wanted to make him happy.
From now, we will call him a grown-up.	